

Insist on quality PureBond® veneer core hardwood plywood in your cabinets, furniture and closet systems.

PureBond veneer core plywood is all wood—no particleboard—and it's made right here in North America with Columbia Forest Products' EPA award-winning PureBond formaldehyde-free technology.

You'll enjoy the enduring beauty of real North American hardwood that will last for generations and is a healthier alternative to wood products that use urea formaldehyde in their construction.

So now you can breathe easier – because your PureBond Fabricator Network member can explain the ways they can build your cabinets or furniture with your home's beauty – and your family's air quality – in mind.

Doesn't your family deserve PureBond quality?

PureBond plywood... Because everyone deserves quality.

Designing a kitchen. Selecting furniture. Remodeling your bath. Whatever your home improvement plans, it's likely that they include adding new cabinets, furniture, closets or other storage units made of wood.

And when you consider your choices, it pays to choose the materials that will give you quality, pride and peace of mind - while adding lasting value to your home.

PureBond® hardwood plywood from Columbia Forest Products brings you all of that and more.

A Unique Product with Unique Benefits

- › The timeless warmth of wood ... with the design versatility to convey traditional, classic or contemporary looks.
- › Available in countless real-wood veneer surface options.
- › Hardwood strength, performance and durability.
- › Environmentally friendly, it promotes healthy indoor air quality with its proprietary, soy-based technology - instead of potentially hazardous urea formaldehyde.
- › Enhance the resale value of your home. PureBond is a great selling feature and differentiator.
- › Made in the US and Canada, PureBond is cost competitive, yet delivers so much more in quality.
- › Available to you through most Home Depot stores or through The PureBond Fabricator Network.

PureBond hardwood plywood is manufactured exclusively by Columbia Forest Products, North America's leading maker of hardwood plywood. With a half-century of experience plus a strong commitment to product excellence and environmental stewardship, you can count on us to provide the quality you deserve ... at a surprisingly affordable price.

Insist on PureBond quality in your home.
